Industry Structure and Development :

The rubber products industry comprises three sub-industries: tire and tube, hose and belting, and other rubber products. Industrial rubber products include hose and belting, and other rubber products, but excludes tires and tubes.

While industrial rubber products are used by virtually all industries, the dominant market is automotive (for example, hoses, belts, gaskets, weather-stripping, glass encapsulation, air dams and deflectors, and door, window and closure seals). Other important markets include conveyor belts for mining and forestry operations, roll flooring, and consumer products.

Performance during the year :

During the year 2012-2013 the Company was able to achieved total income from operations of Rs. 3491.76 lacs from its trading activities and made a nominal profit of Rs. 184.71 Lacs. The said increase in turnover is due to combined revenue of amalgamated company. The merger has also benefited the company in increasing its profits.

With new activities planned from the next financial year, we expect to make better performance and post good profits.
